ABOUT ME:

Pavel Kurial, M.D., has been a board-certified plastic surgeon since 2004. He obtained his medical degree at the Faculty of Medicine of the Palacky's University in Olomouc in Czech Republic in 1997. Subsequently, in the Ceske Budejovice Hospital, Inc., he devoted himself to general surgery in which he passed the first-degree certification in 2000. His interest in microsurgery led him to plastic surgery. He performed his first tissue transfers in reconstruction of defects and replantation of limb parts before his attestation in plastic surgery, which he successfully passed in 2004. Since then, he has performed hundreds of microsurgical procedures. Currently, Pavel Kurial, M.D., works as a deputy chief of plastic surgery at the Ceske Budejovice Hospital, Inc. and is mainly engaged in aesthetic surgery. He also works in private practice at the CB Clinic Hluboka and Vltavou and the Institute of Medical Cosmetics in Ceske Budejovice. Thanks to the new techniques he learns on foreign courses, and surgeries he performs on daily basis, he acquires the skills with which he achieves results that place him at the forefront of plastic aesthetic surgery in the Czech Republic and abroad. He regularly lectures at congresses in the Czech Republic and abroad and is happy to pass on his experience to younger colleagues in the team. He is a surgeon passionate about his field, with ambitions to achieve perfect results, and a great deal of respect for human personality.

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS OUTSIDE SURGERY:

The Czech Medical Chamber (CMC) – an active member. A court-appointed expert in the field of plastic surgery

SUPPORTING STATEMENT FOR ELECTION

It is a great honour to stand as a candidate for the position of Assistant Chair of the ISAPS National Secretaries Group.

For more than two years, I have served as the National Secretary for the Czech Republic. This role has shown me how important National Secretaries are as a bridge between ISAPS members in their countries and the ISAPS Board of Directors. They bring members' ideas, suggestions, and feedback to the Board, while also bringing ISAPS closer to plastic surgeons who are not yet members and supporting education and membership growth.

ISAPS has given me so much throughout my professional career. Through its educational programs, I have gained valuable surgical experience, but even more importantly, I have made wonderful friends around the world. I believe that becoming an ISAPS member is one of the most important decisions in a plastic surgeon's career, and I would like to encourage more young colleagues to take that same step.

For the past ten years, I have organized an annual educational course in aesthetic plastic surgery in the Czech Republic for plastic surgeons and residents. Five of these courses were held as part of the ISAPS Visiting Professor Program. From my own experience, I know that this program is one of the most effective ways to promote ISAPS and attract new members. If elected, I would be pleased to support National Secretaries in organizing these programs, share my experience, and encourage them to take advantage of this unique educational opportunity.

Another priority for me would be to strengthen communication with plastic surgeons and residents who are not yet ISAPS members. Close collaboration with national societies and active promotion of ISAPS educational opportunities can help us expand our membership and strengthen the ISAPS community.

During my term as National Secretary, the Czech Republic has, for the first time, been included twice among the countries individually represented in the ISAPS Global Survey rather than being grouped under "Other Countries." I would like to further improve the Global Survey by focusing more on patient safety and clinically relevant topics, making its data more useful for everyday clinical practice as well as for our industry partners supporting ISAPS educational activities.

I see the role of Assistant Chair as working side by side with the Chair of the National Secretaries Group. We should work as a team, share responsibilities, support each other, and encourage active collaboration among National Secretaries. My goal is to be a reliable partner, always ready to help and contribute to making our National Secretaries community a strong driving force for the future of ISAPS. If elected, I will do my very best to support our National Secretaries and contribute to the continued development of ISAPS.
